

Health & Safety

Injury Arising At Work

If you receive an injury whilst at work, however slight, or experience a 'near-miss' accident or dangerous occurrence must immediately report the details and circumstances of the injury to your manager will record the incident in the accident book and complete an accident report. Failure to immediately report the details and circumstances of the injury may result in the potential inability to raise industrial injury claims.